[redacted] VILLAGE OF ROSEMONT (Village), was interviewed at the UNITED STATES ATTORNEY'S OFFICE in Chicago, Illinois. Accompanying [redacted] were attorneys [redacted] FOLEY AND LARDNER, 1 IBM Plaza, Suite 3300, 330 North Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, 312-755-2545. Also present during the interview were Assistant United States Attorneys (AUSAs) [redacted] [redacted] was already familiar with the identities of interviewing Agents from a previous interview conducted September 24, 2001. [redacted] was advised this follow-up interview was to explore in a little more detail the matters discussed during the first interview. [redacted] then provided the following information:

[redacted] was uncertain how long the [redacted] INSURANCE AGENCY [redacted] held the Village's insurance contract prior to his becoming Finance Officer in 1989. [redacted] believed that [redacted] held the contract for more than five years before losing it to ABI ACORDIA (ABI) in 1991. [redacted] could not recall the name of the agent that handled the contract for [redacted] but believed he had some contact with that agent at the ALLSTATE ARENA before he became Finance Officer for the Village. Once [redacted] became the Finance Officer, he was introduced to the insurance contract by his predecessor, RAY GOLD. GOLD left the Village due to becoming ill with cancer, and passed away a few months later. [redacted] did not know who assisted GOLD in handling the [redacted] contracts prior to his becoming the Finance Officer.

[redacted] could not provide any specific reasons why the contract for the Village's insurance was put out for bid in 1990. [redacted] explained that Rosemont Mayor DONALD STEPHENS has weekly staff meetings every Tuesday at which such matters are discussed. [redacted] could not recall any specific discussions at those meetings in 1990 concerning the insurance contract. [redacted] does not take notes at those meetings. [redacted] could not recall any specific conversations he had with Mayor STEPHENS concerning the insurance contract at that time. [redacted] may have had some discussions with Deputy Mayor [redacted] concerning the contract, as it would be appropriate to discuss such matters with the Deputy Mayor, however, he could not specifically recall any such conversation.

[REDACTED] could not specifically recall his initial meeting with [REDACTED] concerning ABI's interest in bidding for the Village's insurance contract in 1990. [REDACTED] was sure that such a meeting occurred, but he could not specifically recall it. [REDACTED] believed that in addition to [REDACTED] he met with a sales agent from ABI, but could not recall that individual's name. [REDACTED] did not believe any other Village employee was involved in that meeting. [REDACTED] explained that this was the initial pre-bid meeting at which the request for proposals (RFPs) and other details of the Village's insurance needs were discussed so that bidders could tailor their proposals to those needs. [REDACTED] believed this meeting occurred in September and that he would have had similar meetings with other bidders.

Later in December 1990, [REDACTED] held a second set of meetings with bidders at which they presented their proposals. [REDACTED] could not recall specifics pertaining to any of these meetings. He was sure they happened, however, as he held such proposal meetings every time he bid out a contract. [REDACTED] did not recall [REDACTED] at the ABI proposal meeting, but suggested it was possible he was there. [REDACTED] did not recall any other Village employee attending those proposal meetings. [REDACTED] believed that [REDACTED] and the ABI salesman whose name he could not recall presented ABI's proposal. [REDACTED] did not believe that individual was [REDACTED] who later became [REDACTED]'s main ABI contact.

b7C

[REDACTED] acknowledged that [REDACTED] cosigned the village's premium checks to ABI for several years after ABI won the contract. [REDACTED] explained that in 1990, there were four Village officials designated as authorized signers on Village checks. Those individuals were the Mayor, the Deputy Mayor, [REDACTED] and the Finance Committee Chairman. Currently, the Village Clerk and a Trustee have been added to that list and [REDACTED] who is now [REDACTED] has been removed from that list. In 1990, two signatures were required on every check more than $3,000.00. That amount has since been raised to $4,000.00. There was no significance to the fact that [REDACTED] signed the premium checks. [REDACTED] had no oversight responsibility for the insurance contract and no involvement in the process.

b7C

[REDACTED] did not know how interested insurance brokers obtained an RFP from the Village in 1989/1990. Over the years, firms routinely have contacted the Village and offered their services for insurance and various other matters, and [REDACTED] keeps such offers in a file for future reference. Once the Village has a need for

b7C

a service, [REDACTED] contacts those individuals or sends them an RFP. He surmised that may have been how ABI received an RFP. [REDACTED] no longer has any of those old ABI letters from that file.

[REDACTED] decided who received RFPs. No one else was involved in that decision. [REDACTED] believed that there were only one or two other bidders, besides ABI, for the 1990 contract, not two or three others as he suggested during his first interview. However, he could recall only [REDACTED] and not the name of the other bidder. All proposals were submitted to the Village in person by each bidder at their December meeting.

b7C

[REDACTED] believed that each succeeding year in which ABI's contract was renewed, the proposals were submitted in person. They were usually submitted by [REDACTED] but possibly by [REDACTED]. For each of these contract renewal proposal presentations, [REDACTED] would give a presentation and provide to the Village two proposals, one which [REDACTED] kept and reviewed and one which he gave to Mayor STEPHENS. [REDACTED] believed that possibly [REDACTED] from PENNCO INSURANCE came with [REDACTED] to one or more of these proposal presentation meetings. [REDACTED] did not recall if anyone else from the Village attended these meetings, although he conceded that it was possible that [REDACTED] may have been at one or more of them. [REDACTED] would have attended only when he was Deputy Mayor and not after he became the Director of Public Safety. [REDACTED] may have invited Deputy Mayor [REDACTED] out of courtesy, but he simply could not recall. Mayor STEPHENS never sat in on those proposal meetings.

b7C

Each year, at one of the staff meetings in September, [REDACTED] would present information concerning the insurance contract. No one else at the meeting had any input concerning insurance matters. [REDACTED] summarized how the relationship was going and usually made a recommendation to renew or not to renew the contract. After obtaining this information, the Mayor would indicate that he agreed the contract should be renewed and [REDACTED] would call [REDACTED] and begin that process. The renewal of the contract would then be placed on the agenda of the next Village Board meeting. Once the matter passed and the contract was renewed, the Village often obtained a loan from PARKWAY BANK AND TRUST to pay the premiums. That loan was repaid over the following 12 months. [REDACTED] was responsible for obtaining that loan and frequently dealt with [REDACTED] Loan Officers at the bank.

In 1996, the decision was made not to renew the contract with ABI. [REDACTED] reiterated that bad claim service by ABI's claims servicer was mainly responsible for his recommending this change. At the September staff meeting, [REDACTED] recommended the contract be placed out for bid, the Mayor agreed and RFPs were sent out. [REDACTED] did not recall how he decided to whom to send RFPs, but believed he may have had past inquiries in his file from brokers interested in supplying insurance to the Village. [REDACTED] also recalled being contacted by someone from [REDACTED] insurance.

During the pre-bid and proposal meetings with ABI, AON and [REDACTED] was joined by Rosemont Village Attorney [REDACTED] believed that [REDACTED] presented the proposal for ABI and might have been assisted by [REDACTED]. During the December proposal meetings, [REDACTED] requested that each bidder provide three copies of the proposal so that one could be reviewed by him, one by [REDACTED] and one could be provided to the Mayor. Once all the proposals were received, [REDACTED] created a spread sheet and provided that to [REDACTED]. They discussed the matter and agreed that [REDACTED] should recommend the contract be awarded to [REDACTED]. Some time around December 10 to 15, [REDACTED] presented the matter at a staff meeting and he recommended the contract be awarded to [REDACTED]. The Mayor agreed and the matter was placed on the agenda for the Board. After Board approval, a contract was signed with [REDACTED].

b7c

Concerning the ABI fee charged to the Village, [REDACTED] corrected his previous statement in which he said he did not think [REDACTED] charged such a fee to the Village back in the late 80's. [REDACTED] advised that in documents he has seen since that interview, he saw that [REDACTED] did in fact charge a fee that was disclosed in their proposals.

b6
b7c

[REDACTED] recalled that during one of the years ABI's contract was renewed, he was looking over their proposal and noticed a $10,000 increase in the ABI fee. He thought that was too high compared to the overall increases in the premiums. He requested the fee be reduced by $5,000. ABI agreed and reduced the fee by $5,000. [REDACTED] could not remember the total fee amount involved or the year that occurred. [REDACTED] believed that he spoke with [REDACTED] concerning the matter. [REDACTED] decided on his own to ask for this fee reduction and was not directed to do so by anyone at the Village.

b6
b7c

[REDACTED] assumed that there were other fees charged by ABI in addition to the ABI fee. He believed these fees were in the Avenue in Rosemont that the Village bought and later tore down. [REDACTED] did not know of any other [REDACTED] businesses. [REDACTED] has seen [REDACTED] at the Village Hall. When there, [REDACTED] visited the Mayor and [REDACTED] has seen the two of them going out to lunch together.

[REDACTED] stated that he did not know that the premium charged to the Village was inflated so that a portion of it could be diverted to [REDACTED]. Had [REDACTED] become aware of that, he would have made Mayor STEPHENS aware of it and left it up to him as to what to do. [REDACTED] had no idea that money was skimmed off the Village's premium payments and paid to the SKYBOX/RIBS RESTAURANT located in the Village Hall building; he expressed great shock and concern when asked the question. [REDACTED] stated that neither O.G. SERVICES nor SKYBOX/RIBS had anything to do with the Village obtaining its insurance from ABI.

[redacted] white male, date of birth [redacted] social security number [redacted] was contacted at his residence [redacted] Chicago, Il., telephone number [redacted] cellular phone number [redacted]. After being advised of the identity of the interviewing agents and the nature of the interview, [redacted] provided the following information:

[redacted] met [redacted] in 1997 at the Hyatt Regency Health Club, 2700 River Road, Rosemont, Il., where they were both members. [redacted] last name unknown, also a member, introduced the two men. [redacted] saw [redacted] regularly at the health club and the two became acquaintances. In late 1998, [redacted] mentioned to [redacted] he recently attempted to by Giorgio's Banquet Hall on Irving Park but the deal fell through. [redacted] previously owned and operated [redacted] until [redacted] told [redacted] he [redacted] restaurant called Ribs in Rosemont and he asked [redacted] if was interested in purchasing it. [redacted] was interested and they began negotiating the sale of the restaurant.

b7C

In May of 1999, [redacted] and his son [redacted] purchased sixty seven percent of Skybox, Inc., dba Ribs from [redacted] with [redacted] maintaining one third of the company. The total sales price was $600,000. Ribs had sales averaging $1,100,000 over the last several years. The financing was as follows:

b6
b7C

[redacted] $400,000 mortgage from Parkway Bank
[redacted] $100,000 cash
[redacted] $100,000 cash

In March of 1999, [redacted]'s initial application for the $400,000 Parkway Bank loan was denied. He informed [redacted] of the loan denial and [redacted] called the bank and one week later the loan was approved; however, [redacted] had to guarantee $250,000 of the loan. [redacted]'s cash contribution was actually $50,000 from the Parkway loan for working capital and a $50,000 note he made to [redacted] gave [redacted] a check for $350,000 representing the remaining balance of the loan. [REDACTED] gave [REDACTED] a $100,000 cashiers check most of which came from life insurance proceeds from the death of [REDACTED] [REDACTED] twenty-nine years old, suffered a fatal brain aneurism and stroke in 1997.

[REDACTED]'s long time employee, was given a ten percent ownership in Ribs one month after the sale, and the remaining ninety percent was split evenly between the two [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. In December of 1999, [REDACTED] purchased [REDACTED]'s thirty percent for $50,000. [REDACTED] holds a ten year note with a single balloon payment due at the expiration of the note.

b7C

[REDACTED] has not made a payment to [REDACTED] on the original $50,000 note in over a year. He said he is also behind two months payments to Parkway Bank. [REDACTED] told [REDACTED] not to worry about paying him but to try and keep the Parkway loan current. [REDACTED] said the business is not doing very well due to a number of factors.

b6
b7C

In March of 2000, [REDACTED]'s son [REDACTED] was arrested by Rosemont Police following a fight at Ribs during which he severely injured a belligerent patron. [REDACTED] was a Rosemont [REDACTED] for five years and was high on the list to be called for [REDACTED]. He was working as a bouncer on the night of the fight and a drunk patron refused to leave when asked by [REDACTED]. A fight ensued and the bar patron was severely injured and taken to the hospital.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] was arrested by Rosemont Patrol Officer [REDACTED] and Detective [REDACTED] with the concurrence of the States Attorney's office. [REDACTED] eventually pled guilty to a misdemeanor and he is being sued by the bar patron. [REDACTED] was livid with Rosemont officials and verbally accused them of mistreatment of his son. [REDACTED] called [REDACTED] the night of his son's arrest and asked him to intervene with Mayor Stephens on his son's behalf. [REDACTED] said there was nothing he could do for [REDACTED]'s son.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] was told at a later date by [REDACTED] a retired [REDACTED] that [REDACTED] Chief of Public Safety, had issued a memo instructing all Public Safety Personnel not to patronize Ribs Restaurant. [REDACTED] also learned that Mayor Stephens may have been contacted in Florida on the night of the incident and that he was responsible for his son [REDACTED] issuing the memo. [REDACTED] said he suffered a significant drop in revenue following the arrest of his son.

[REDACTED] recalled a conversation with [REDACTED] in approximately April of 2001 at the Hyatt health club. [REDACTED] told [REDACTED] that Mayor Stephens was concerned that [REDACTED] may have financed the purchase of Ribs with mob money. Specifically, [REDACTED] asked [REDACTED] if [REDACTED] an elderly mob figure from Elmwood Park, was involved in the purchase of the restaurant. [REDACTED] acknowledged knowing [REDACTED] but vehemently denied any mob involvement.

b7C

A few days after his conversation with [REDACTED] was working at Ribs and [REDACTED] was there having lunch with Mayor Stephens. [REDACTED] was surprised when [REDACTED] walked in, greeted him warmly and then hugged him. [REDACTED] then walked over to Mayor Stephens and greeted him also. [REDACTED] assumed [REDACTED] was an acquaintance of Mayor Stephens. After lunch, [REDACTED] called [REDACTED] on the phone and told him Mayor Stephens was very angry about the fact that [REDACTED] showed up at Ribs while he was there. [REDACTED] said Stephens was very concerned about who he was seen with in light of the scrutiny surrounding the pending Rosemont Casino deal.

b6
b7C

At about the time of the [REDACTED] incident, [REDACTED] started music entertainment at the restaurant including karaoke in an effort to boost business. His efforts paid off as revenue began to increase in the summer of 2001. In August of 2001, he received a letter from Rosemont's city attorney ordering him to cease and desist playing live music at the restaurant. He made inquiries to [REDACTED] the city attorney, and was told the order came directly from the Mayor's office. [REDACTED] sent a number of letters to Mayor Stephens, [REDACTED] to try and resolve their differences to no avail. [REDACTED] again asked [REDACTED] to intervene with Mayor Stephens to try and resolve the matter. [REDACTED] said there was nothing he could do for [REDACTED]

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] said he has been advised by his attorneys to sue Mayor Stephens and Rosemont for interfering with his business. He is seriously considering taking such action.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] said his business usually does well if the Rosemont Exposition Center (REC) is busy. Since 9/11/01, business at the REC is off approximately thirty percent and this has had a negative effect on Ribs revenue.

[REDACTED] said he thought [REDACTED] sold Ribs in order to raise money for his investment in the Rosemont Casino. [REDACTED] spoke frequently about the casino investment he was making with his wife and how lucrative it could be.

[REDACTED] tried to sell the restaurant to his long time manager [REDACTED] but [REDACTED] thought the deal was too expensive. [REDACTED] started a successful restaurant on Northwest Highway in Edison Park called [REDACTED]'s.

b7C

[REDACTED] agreed to pay $600,000 for Ribs because he thought the lease was so good. He recognized the price may have been as much as $200,00 over fair value but he was attracted by the favorable lease terms. Lease payments were $5400 per month but this included gas. [REDACTED] estimated gas bills at $3000 per month and there was ten years remaining on the lease. [REDACTED] said [REDACTED]'s start up costs were minimal as Rosemont paid for the restaurant's atrium as well as the plumbing.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] said he did not believe Mayor Stephens was a part owner of the restaurant. [REDACTED] owned seventy-five percent and his brother [REDACTED] owned twenty-five percent. Mayor Stephens frequented Ribs for lunch twice a week prior to August of 2001. [REDACTED] said he has not been in since that time. Stephens usually had lunch with [REDACTED] [REDACTED] said he always picked up the tab for Stephens.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] has his insurance with General Insurance and [REDACTED] [REDACTED] is his broker. [REDACTED] was aware ABI Accordia was the insurance company for Ribs at the time of the sale. [REDACTED] never had a conversation with [REDACTED] concerning Accordia or insurance commissions. He chose General because the rate was less and he has known [REDACTED] for many years.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] does not have any other investments with [REDACTED]. His son [REDACTED] invested $10,000 in a partnership formed by [REDACTED] [REDACTED] formed the partnership to trade stock with [REDACTED] [REDACTED] is a friend and investor with [REDACTED] [REDACTED] told [REDACTED] that Mayor Stephens had invested a large amount of money with [REDACTED] in the stock market.

In 1998, New Aspen was experiencing financial difficulties and began to look for a line of credit. [redacted] said they were denied credit by their bank, Plaza Bank of Norridge, as that bank did not issue commercial loans.

b7C

[redacted] told David about his friend [redacted] from Wynstone Country Club in Barrington who was willing to loan New Aspen $200,000. [redacted] had been a member of Wynstone for several years. [redacted] was uncertain why [redacted] was willing to make the loan other than as a favor to his father. [redacted] had never met [redacted] before.

[redacted] said he and each of his three brothers signed individual promissory notes to [redacted] for $50,000 in March of 1998. [redacted] provided a copy of an unsigned promissory note from [redacted] which will be attached to and incorporated into this report. The original notes were interest only ($355 per month) with the balance due in March 1999. [redacted] said he and his brothers had difficulty paying the notes off but finally completed payment in March of 2001. As part of their loan agreement the [REDACTED] reimbursed [REDACTED] for a $200,000 life insurance policy on [REDACTED] with O.G. Services as the primary beneficiary and [REDACTED] as the secondary beneficiary.

New Aspen recently completed the electrical work on an office building at 9450 Higgins, Rosemont, Illinois. They were the electrical subcontractor for McShane Company which was the general contractor. [REDACTED] indicated this was the only project New Aspen has done in Rosemont. He pointed out that New Aspen does a lot of work for [REDACTED] and that [REDACTED] had nothing to do with this project. [REDACTED] said he does not know Mayor Donald Stephens nor any other Rosemont official.

b7C

New Aspen was hired in 1997 by [REDACTED] of Ulbrich & Associates, a general contractor, to do the electrical work on an office addition at U.S. Flavors and Fragrances in Wauconda, Il. [REDACTED] recalled they were paid approximately $60,000 in the fall of 1997 for the work. [REDACTED] was shown two checks from New Aspen to [REDACTED] in 1998. The first check numbered 004953 and dated 9/25/98 was for $10,000; the second check numbered 005043 and dated 10/29/98 was for $14,000. [REDACTED] checked New Aspen's general ledger and noted the $10,000 payment appeared to be a credit back to [REDACTED]. There was no entry in the general ledger for the $14,000 payment to [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] said the payments could have been a refund to [REDACTED] due to an overpayment or for a change in the scope of the project. [REDACTED] said his brother [REDACTED] may be more knowledgeable about the payments to [REDACTED].

b7C

[REDACTED] recalled his father may have known [REDACTED] at the time and assisted New Aspen in securing the contract. [REDACTED] can be reached at cellular phone number [REDACTED]. New Aspen's attorney is [REDACTED] and their accounting firm is Africk and Chez.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent (SA) [REDACTED] at Rolling Meadows, Illinois:

b6
b7C

On February 22, 2002, SA [REDACTED] reviewed documents and records relating to ROSEMONT EXPOSITION SERVICES INC., a company located at 9301 West Bryn Mawr, Rosemont, Illinois. ROSEMONT EXPOSITION SERVICES INC. (RES) was originally incorporated on December 29, 1988 as O'HARE EXPOSITION SERVICES INC., however the name change to RES occurred on January 19, 1990. According to corporation records the current [REDACTED] and the [REDACTED] Earlier references to a business that operated in Rosemont in a similar capacity was MPH ENTERPRISES INC. which was incorporated on December 11, 1979. At the time of this incorporation [REDACTED] was [REDACTED] [REDACTED] former [REDACTED] TEAMSTERS LOCAL 714, Chicago, Illinois. [REDACTED] is the brother of [REDACTED] of TEAMSTERS LOCAL 714 [REDACTED]

b6
b7C

According to research conducted on RES, the following information was ascertained:

[REDACTED] INTERVIEW DATED OCTOBER 16, 2000

b6
b7C

1. RES uses TEAMSTERS 714 members to unload freight at the ROSEMONT CONVENTION CENTER (DONALD E. STEPHENS CONVENTION CENTER)
2. RES employs 90 teamsters from LOCAL 714 per show.
3. RES employs [REDACTED] TEAMSTERS 714 [REDACTED] everyday. Prior to [REDACTED] RES employed [REDACTED] as the LOCAL 714 [REDACTED]
4. BOMARK CLEANING SERVICES handles the payroll for RES.

CHICAGO SUN-TIME ARTICLE DATED MAY 27, 1990

RES has a contract with the Village of Rosemont whereby a percentage of the net profits are reverted to the Village of Rosemont. In 1989, the Village of Rosemont received $1.3 million from RES. The company was once owned by [REDACTED] (MPH, INC.) but [REDACTED] sold the firm in 1985 yet is believed to retain 20% interest.

RES annual sales in the year 2000 were $19 million.

CHICAGO SUN-TIMES ARTICLE DATED JUNE 29, 1993

RES has an exclusive contract to provide electrical wiring and set-up services to exhibitors.

ANALYSIS OF THE DONALD E. STEPHENS COMMITTEEMAN FUND
DATED MAY 23, 2000

RES contributed $11,400 to the DONALD E. STEPHENS Committeeman Fund on June 22, 1999.

[REDACTED] FD-302 DATED JUNE 26, 2000

RES was originally formed in 1979 as MPH, INC. [REDACTED] [REDACTED] as an in-house contractor at the O'HARE EXPOSITION CENTER, now known as the DONALD E. STEPHENS CONVENTION CENTER, Rosemont, Illinois.

RES paid [REDACTED] a salary of $100,000 in 1995 regarding his work as the chief steward for TEAMSTERS LOCAL 714 at the ROSEMONT CONVENTION CENTER.

DONALD E. STEPHENS FD-302 DATED DECEMBER 5, 2001

STEPHENS advised that he first met [REDACTED] while [REDACTED] was employed as a chief steward for TEAMSTERS LOCAL 714 working at the ROSEMONT EXPOSITION CENTER. STEPHENS further stated that all exhibitors at the ROSEMONT EXPOSITION CENTER work with the ROSEMONT EXPOSITION SERVICE, a private company that provides various services to exhibitors including electric, gas, forklifts, decorating and set-up, take-down and clean-up. STEPHENS said that the show manager would contract with RES to handle all services necessary for his exhibitors. STEPHENS further stated that RES provides 70% of its profits back to the Village of Rosemont in return for the exclusive right to service the ROSEMONT EXPOSITION CENTER, now known as the DONALD E. STEPHENS EXPOSITION CENTER.

Synopsis: Contact with [redacted] Special Investigator, Independent Review Board, on 12/28/2001.

Details: During the course of this investigation, information has been provided by [redacted] Special Investigator, Independent Review Board, Office of the Chief Investigator, New York, NY (212)635-0202. [redacted] has worked for the Independent Review Board since [redacted] after the Teamsters Union entered a consent decree allowing the Department of Justice to investigate and ferret out corruption within the Teamsters Union in the U.S. In this regard, [redacted] has been very active with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (IBT), Local 714, in Chicago, IL. Additionally, [redacted] has provided to this writer summary reports as well as sworn deposition testimony taken of Local 714 individuals in 1996 including [redacted]

On 12/20/2001 and on 12/21/2001, [redacted] telephonically interviewed [redacted] a member of the IBT Local 714 in Chicago, IL who specifically works in the Trade Show Division. In summary, [redacted] provided the following information:

1. [redacted] identified [redacted] as the new Teamsters Local 714 Movie and Trade Show Division Chief Steward. [redacted] further stated that [redacted] is a relative of the [redacted] family.

On December 19, 2001, approximately 11:45 a.m., [] [] IBT Local 714, Chicago, Illinois, member and trade show worker, telephonically contacted OCI/IRB and advised:

[] said that the complaints about [] members in office at Local 714 continue to date, i.e. black balling of those members who in any way opposed [] from assignments in trade show work of a supervisory nature or involving extensive overtime and any assignments in movie production work whatsoever. [] said that in the recent past there have been no reported acts of violence or intimidation to his knowledge.

[] said that the Local 714 reform group are filing a second civil law suit in the near future in federal court against Local 714 regarding the black balling from movie production work.
[] said that the first civil suit filed by the Local 714 reform group against their exclusion from participation in the Local 714 Health and Welfare Fund benefits has now become a subject of investigative interest to the Department of Labor (Special Investigator, [], the Pension Welfare Benefits Administration, Office of Labor Management Standards and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. [] said that the issues of particular interest are why the Health and Welfare Fund, which was insured, maintained such large cash reserves and the banks and loans given to local union officials from these banks where Health and Welfare Fund monies were deposited and/or invested.

[] said that RISE investigators have been in and around Local 714 for much of year 2001 gathering statistics on movie production work assignments for a predicted report they say they are doing. [] said that RISE people said that a 50-page document on this subject (Local 714) has already been given to the General President Hoffa. [] said that the reform group did not get a copy of this 50 page document. [] further said that the RISE people said that they want to use Local 714 as an example of how/why the IRB has not worked (been effective). [] said that it is his opinion and some others around Local 714 that RISE might be helpful in the short term, but they are not considered

[redacted] Administrator, [redacted] Deputy Administrator, [redacted] Deputy Chief Counsel, [redacted] Chief Counsel, and [redacted] Investigator, ILLINOIS GAMING BOARD (IGB or Board), were contacted at the IGB offices, 160 North LaSalle Street, Suite 300, Chicago, Illinois. All present were advised of the official identities of the interviewing Agents and the nature of the interview. [redacted] with occasional input from the others present (noted where appropriate), provided the following information:

b6
b7C

[redacted] advised that he was appointed Administrator of the IGB on November 16, 2001. He provided a brief overview of the Board's staff, noting that it consisted of five sections: Investigations, Enforcement, Audit, Finance and Administration, and Legal. Immediately upon becoming Administrator, [redacted] realized that the staff handled myriad matters pertaining to the ten riverboat gambling licenses issued in the state of Illinois. One of the matters was the revocation of the EMERALD CASINO (EMERALD) license. [redacted]'s first Board meeting was on December 6, 2001, at which he received the Board's permission to immediately reinstitute settlement negotiations with EMERALD. [redacted] explained that settlement negotiations began under the previous Administrator, [redacted] but were put on hold after the Board became aware of the [redacted] attempt to sell the casino without notification to and approval from the IGB. Based on the Board's approval, [redacted] contacted EMERALD Attorney [redacted] not think [REDACTED] was very well informed on the issues. [REDACTED] later provided a memorandum in support of granting EMERALD a license in ROSEMONT. [REDACTED] told [REDACTED] that the Board's position was that it must grant EMERALD the application, not the license and that the entire matter was subject to Board approval. [REDACTED] did not obtain Board approval to meet with [REDACTED] but didn't believe it was necessary to do so. There is no memo detailing that meeting.

On December 14, 2001, [REDACTED] met with [REDACTED] who advanced EMERALD's position that the Board was aware of the [REDACTED] process," that there was nothing wrong with the process, and that Board notification and approval of the process should not be an issue. When asked why the Board rejected the [REDACTED] process, [REDACTED] deferred to Deputy Legal Counsel [REDACTED] explained that EMERALD hired the JEFFRIES COMPANY to create a proposal that offered the EMERALD CASINO for sale to large national gaming companies. A few companies bid and MGM was selected to negotiate for the purchase of EMERALD. Further, [REDACTED] explained that by state law, any process that affects ownership of a casino requires prior notice to the IGB and prior approval from the IGB. EMERALD gave no notice and obtained no approval. Once the Board learned that EMERALD was in negotiations with MGM for the sale of the casino, it rejected the process and any potential merger. [REDACTED] stated that the differing views each party had of past negotiations, the confidentiality agreement between EMERALD and MGM, and how that agreement affected Board notification, also were discussed with [REDACTED] referred to several memos that addressed these issues and the meeting.

b7C

[REDACTED] advised that no Board nor staff member ever suggested adding counts to address EMERALD's failure to give notice and obtain approval to the complaint that rejected EMERALD's license renewal. [REDACTED] did not think anything would be gained by adding more counts. He equated the situation to one in which an Assistant United States Attorney would not charge everything possible in an indictment so as not to be accused of piling on. Further, [REDACTED] reasoned that the trial date for the EMERALD appeal is set for May 1, 2002 and he has been instructed by the Board not to do anything that would result in a continuance of that trial date. He felt that adding counts to the complaint at this late date would undoubtedly delay the trial.

b7C

Based on the various parties' arguments, [REDACTED] saw two options: either dismiss what happened, get beyond it and look forward; or conclude that the process was tainted so badly that it must be

b6

stopped, and move in a new direction. [REDACTED]'s opinion was to dismiss the past, get beyond it and look forward.

[REDACTED] expressed disappointment that the Board has thus far refused to vote on two issues that he sees as key to settling the EMERALD matter. On a number of occasions, [REDACTED] requested that the Board vote yes or no on the location of ROSEMONT for the casino, and secondly, to vote yes or no on the MGM merger proposal. The Board refused to do so and [REDACTED] believed that delayed a settlement. [REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] is the only Board member that is staunchly against MGM's merger proposal and thinks the process is so tainted that it must be stopped. [REDACTED] believed that Board Chairman [REDACTED] is against the merger because of the ROSEMONT location. [REDACTED] did not know the stance of the remaining three Board members. [REDACTED] asserted he encouraged MGM to consider other sites, but MGM insisted their offer was contingent on ROSEMONT as the site of the casino.

b7C

MGM sent the Board a proposed merger agreement. [REDACTED] asked the Board to approve a meeting with MGM to further discuss their merger proposal, because, he contended, to understand EMERALD's settlement proposal, one must understand MGM's merger proposal. To gain that understanding, he and staff wanted to meet with MGM, but the Board would not approve such meetings. After reviewing the agreement, [REDACTED] directed Chief Legal Counsel [REDACTED] to contact MGM in order to clarify certain details. Both [REDACTED] denied that those calls constituted negotiations with MGM, as that would have defied the Board's instructions not to negotiate with MGM. [REDACTED] stated that his calls to MGM were simply to clarify their position and not to negotiate. However, [REDACTED] admitted that on several occasions MGM changed their proposal pursuant to his expressed concerns. Despite this, and despite what was reported in the media about [REDACTED] brokering a deal, [REDACTED] insisted that neither he nor staff was negotiating with MGM. [REDACTED] cautioned that one should not believe everything one read in the newspapers.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] had a second meeting with [REDACTED] on December 20, 2001 at which time [REDACTED] introduced the idea of EMERALD making a "voluntary contribution" to the state. The results of that meeting are detailed in [REDACTED]'s December 27, 2001 memo. [REDACTED] briefly discussed a telephone call from [REDACTED] that did not result in any meetings, and is documented in a memo.

b6
b7C

Next, [REDACTED] met with [REDACTED] a new attorney who said he was additional counsel to EMERALD, on December 28, 2001.

b6
b7C

194B-CG-114999

Continuation of FD-302 of [REDACTED]

, On 3/19/2002, Page 4

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] told [REDACTED] that he was there to settle, and details of the meeting and subsequent telephone conferences are contained in several [REDACTED] memos. The key detail [REDACTED] contributed was that EMERALD was willing to make a $100 million voluntary contribution to the state. [REDACTED] told [REDACTED] that the $100 million figure was a good start, and in later negotiations the number was increased to $150 million, then to $160 million. [REDACTED] stated that despite this being called a voluntary contribution, everyone knew that it was actually a fine, but it had to be termed a voluntary contribution to gain certain tax treatment. The transaction raised numerous and complicated redistribution questions which staff and various EMERALD and MGM attorneys have been working to resolve.

In order for him to arrive at a fair and appropriate redistribution of the transaction's proceeds, [REDACTED] requested the Board allow him and outside tax attorneys to meet with MGM and EMERALD to further negotiate. The Board denied the request, and instead requested a special presentation on ROSEMONT as a casino location at the Board's December 28, 2001 meeting. [REDACTED] stated he gave the Board a very objective presentation and made no recommendations. [REDACTED] stressed that he did not vote on matters before the Board. He tried simply to offer an objective presentation of the facts.

b7C

In addition to the meetings discussed above, [REDACTED] met with investor [REDACTED] attorneys for investor [REDACTED] and several attorneys representing other minority investors, i.e., Judge [REDACTED]. All those meetings were reported in memos.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] viewed his job as Administrator was to get the best deal in the best light for the Board and for the state of Illinois. [REDACTED] wanted to see this matter resolved as quickly as possible with as high a voluntary contribution as possible going to the state. Furthermore, [REDACTED] did not want most of the money to go to the [REDACTED] as he saw them as the bad actors in this deal. In fact, [REDACTED] suggested that [REDACTED] should be indicted for perjury for his false testimony before the IGB.

b6
b7C

Initially, [REDACTED] claimed he had no opinion as to whether Rosemont was an appropriate location for the casino, however, when pressed, opined that the casino could be located in Rosemont as long as adequate controls were in place. [REDACTED] referred to a number of memos he solicited from his Deputy Administrators concerning controls they felt were necessary to locate the casino in Rosemont.

b6
b7C

Continuation of FD-302 of [REDACTED]

, On 3/19/2002 , Page 5

b6
b7C

In addition to the controls outlined in those memos, the staff is currently in discussions concerning how the Board could control actions taken by the Village of Rosemont. [REDACTED] acknowledged that a number of actions already taken by the Village to direct construction contracts to selected contractors were an area of concern and reflected on Mayor STEPHENS' credibility. Moreover, [REDACTED] acknowledged that his impression was that Mayor STEPHENS exerted undue influence on EMERALD which allowed certain individuals to become investors. He believed, however, that all those matters could be remedied through appropriate controls.

[REDACTED] was asked why he was seeking Board approval on the location of ROSEMONT prior to completing investigations into contracts directed to certain contractors and into investors with close ties to Mayor STEPHENS. [REDACTED] became visibly upset and expressed concern that he was being accused of impropriety. [REDACTED] stated that he never thought of it that way and insisted he was not pushing the Board to approve ROSEMONT prior to completion of outstanding investigations. [REDACTED] was asked if the investigations of the shareholders were complete, and if not, were there any plans to complete those investigations. [REDACTED] deferred to Deputy Administrator [REDACTED] who stated that the staff had concerns about and did limited investigation on several shareholders. Original shareholders [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] have been the subject of some investigation, but all investigations were stayed when the Board rejected any merger settlement. The staff asked the Board to approve the resumption of those investigations, but the Board has not voted on the matter. Additionally, [REDACTED] advised that the staff had concerns about a number of other inside and outside investors, but that no investigations were being conducted. [REDACTED] stated that these investigations would be completed at some future time. [REDACTED] was asked what would happen if the Board approved a settlement/merger sometime in the next month or two and some of these investigations were not complete. [REDACTED] insisted that no investor would receive any money from a settlement/merger prior to being fully investigated and approved as an investor by the Board. He added that all money would be held in escrow until the investigations were completed. No investor would receive their share of the settlement/merger money before being approved by the Board.

b7C

[REDACTED] was asked if Rosemont was an appropriate casino location in light of staff's findings that stringent controls and extraordinary investigations would be necessary to protect the integrity of the operation. [REDACTED] advised that instituting the controls, such as investigating each and every contractor hired to

b6

b6
b7C

build and later service the casino facility, would be a monumental and unprecedented task. That was one of the main reasons [REDACTED] said he was on record that Rosemont was not a suitable location for a casino.

[REDACTED] briefly discussed the IGB's budget and the broad statutory authority the Board has to regulate anything involving riverboat gambling. [REDACTED] recently testified before the general assembly and asked for a $3 million increase in the IGB's budget. He believed he required about $2 million to finance the new investigators that will be needed to conduct all the additional investigations and implement the new controls. As an aside he said that he had learned to always ask for more funding than actually necessary because you never get as much as you ask for. He believed a ROSEMONT casino would bring in hundreds of millions of dollars each year, and a relatively small $3 million increase in his budget was well worth it.

b7C

[REDACTED] expressed dismay that many public officials and outsiders were saying that the Board should simply take back the license and bid it out. [REDACTED] would love to do just that, but state law did not allow it. [REDACTED] deferred to [REDACTED] to explain this prohibition. [REDACTED] explained that under state law, despite the denial of their license renewal, once they filed an appeal, the [REDACTED] could maintain the license during the appeals process. Therefore, they owned the license and the state had no right to do anything with it until there was a final determination in the case.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] discussed a new idea he designated "the [REDACTED] proposal" that was recently presented by the lead attorney on the license renewal denial case, outside counsel [REDACTED] displayed and referred to a [REDACTED] memo that outlined this proposal. [REDACTED] claimed that [REDACTED] was much smarter than he and that he did not completely understand the proposal. He did not think he could explain it very well, but suggested that he believed the proposal allowed the license to be bid out as long as EMERALD, and not the state, was the entity that selected the winning bidder. The Board encouraged [REDACTED] and staff to fully explore the proposal. [REDACTED] advised that staff had many concerns with this proposal and it was currently under review. [REDACTED] agreed to provide a copy of the memo.

When asked about issues concerning title to land on which the casino was being built, [REDACTED] deferred to Deputy Administrator [REDACTED] believed his investigation had proceeded as far as it could go, but that he still was not satisfied that the underlying owners of the land and beneficiaries of the trusts were all known. Without subpoena power, [REDACTED] could not pursue the matter further.

[REDACTED] was not aware of any environmental issued related to the casino property. Deputy Chief Counsel [REDACTED] advised she and staff had discussed the matter, but [REDACTED] denied all knowledge. [REDACTED] advised that he would love to look at the environmental issues because that was something he knew about, having at one time served in the ILLINOIS ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE as Chief of the Environmental Division.

[REDACTED] advised that he was a [REDACTED] graduate of NOTRE DAME UNIVERSITY and [REDACTED]

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] after obtaining a law degree from ITT KENT SCHOOL OF LAW. He spent some time in [REDACTED] and was a defense attorney prior to obtaining the Administrator's position. [REDACTED] saw in the newspaper that [REDACTED] was leaving the Administrator's position and [REDACTED] applied. [REDACTED] met with [REDACTED] about the position. [REDACTED] believed that his references, [REDACTED], were key in his getting the position. [REDACTED] stated that he did not meet with [REDACTED] prior to getting the position. [REDACTED] received one telephone call on his personal cell phone from [REDACTED] who told him he obtained the position. [REDACTED] stated that he did not receive any instructions or marching orders from [REDACTED] prior to or upon accepting the position and does not report to anyone in Springfield. [REDACTED] was somewhat surprised that he did not have to report to anyone and actually thought he should, but again denied having any contact with the Governor since he obtained the position. [REDACTED] has had three to five discussions with [REDACTED] about the voluntary contribution that [REDACTED] proposed. [REDACTED] denied he participated in any meetings or phone calls with anyone from state government, EMERALD, MGM, ROSEMONT, or with EMERALD investors, other than what was contained in memos already provided and what was discussed during this interview.

year and one-half prior. [REDACTED] agreed to accept the valuation if [REDACTED] said it was still good.

[REDACTED] then asked [REDACTED] if the valuation of Bomark would still be valid. [REDACTED] said the valuation was still valid as nothing had changed to alter the value of the company. Then [REDACTED] asked [REDACTED] of Storino, Ramello, and Durkin, 9501 West Devon, Rosemont, Illinois, to draft the paperwork. [REDACTED] wrote a contract for the buy-out based on the valuation of [REDACTED] could not recall if he provided a copy of the valuation to [REDACTED] or not. [REDACTED] did not know if [REDACTED] spoke to [REDACTED] during the preparation of the documents.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] could not recall how the agreement was signed. [REDACTED] thought that he signed the document and then passed it on to [REDACTED]. There was not a formal signing for the sales document. [REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] still has all of the documents regarding this transaction.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] was then asked if he would be willing to waive the attorney-client privilege with regard to this transaction so that [REDACTED] could be interviewed and the documents used to prepare the transaction could be reviewed. [REDACTED] and his attorney stated that they would be willing to waive the privilege and that [REDACTED] would provide all the documents relating to this transaction.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] was then asked about his conversations with [REDACTED] since the first interview with the IRS and the FBI. Stephens stated that he met with [REDACTED] approximately five or six weeks ago to sign amended returns. He met [REDACTED] at his house and he, his wife, and their daughter all signed amended personal returns and [REDACTED] signed amended returns for Bomark as well. [REDACTED] agreed to provide copies of the amended returns.

When asked if he talked to [REDACTED] again about the accounting entry in Bomark's books regarding the buy-out of [REDACTED]'s stock, [REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] had made an assumption with regard to the buyout, and should not have done so. [REDACTED] did not think that [REDACTED] would try to take one nickel from him. [REDACTED] called [REDACTED] shortly after being interviewed by the FBI the first time to discuss the matter. [REDACTED] called and wanted to meet with [REDACTED] but his attorney advised him against it.

[REDACTED] recalled that he had discussed the shareholder loans with [REDACTED] one other time. Sometime before [REDACTED] completed the valuation of the Bomark in 1997, [REDACTED] and he were talking about the company. [REDACTED] mentioned the issue of shareholder loans and [REDACTED] asked what he was talking about. [REDACTED] explained to him as to how using business property for personal use can incur income and that the way of accounting for this was to create a shareholder loan account. [REDACTED] thought this discussion took place about the time the company was converting from a "D" corporation to a "S" corporation.

b7C

[REDACTED] also recalled talking with [REDACTED] later about paying interest on the loan accounts. After [REDACTED] explained how interest has to be charged on the accounts, [REDACTED] told [REDACTED] to just zero-out the loan accounts and he [REDACTED] would claim this as income so they would not have to worry about it again. [REDACTED] did not know why the loans weren't zeroed-out then.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] was asked about [REDACTED] asking [REDACTED] from American Charter Bank to lend money to another client of [REDACTED]'s. [REDACTED] was told that [REDACTED] intimated to [REDACTED] that he [REDACTED] would have Bomark take their business elsewhere if American Charter Bank did not make this loan. [REDACTED] said that he had not heard that story, but he assured the interviewers that he is the person who decides where Bomark banks, not [REDACTED].

[] was approached by [] to draft a stock purchase agreement. [] told [] that he and [] had reached an agreement for Bomark to purchase the entire interest of [] who was a shareholder in the company. [] gave [] a copy of a valuation of Bomark and told him that the price agreed upon would be $501,744. The price was based upon the valuation which had been prepared by []. [] did not review the valuation nor did he rely upon it for the drafting of the documents. The money was to be paid in two installments, the amounts and terms of which were decided by Mark [].

[] recalled that [] wanted to completely remove [] from the company. To that end, [] drafted a buy-out agreement for the entire interest of [] a stockholders' resolution to authorize Bomark to purchase []'s shares, a secretary's certificate regarding the stockholders' resolution, and a resignation letter for []. These were the only documents which [] had prepared for this transaction. [] did not have any notes or other material other than those five documents (the four documents he drafted and the company valuation).

[REDACTED] thought he had a couple of conversations with either [REDACTED] or one of his secretaries during the drafting of the documents. [REDACTED] would have spoken to one of Stephens' secretaries only to talk about when the documents would be picked-up from his office. [REDACTED] did not speak with [REDACTED] or anyone other [REDACTED] or one of his secretaries regarding this transaction. [REDACTED] only had substantive conversations regarding this transaction with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] recalled that someone from Bomark picked-up the documents from his office. [REDACTED] handled the signing of the documents themselves. [REDACTED] did not know where the signing took place. [REDACTED] used a standard stock sales agreement for a related party transaction to draft the documents. The signed documents and [REDACTED]'s cancelled stock certificate were returned to [REDACTED] after the transaction was completed.

[REDACTED] was telephonically contacted on April 12, 2002 by the writer and asked how long the transaction took from the initial meeting with [REDACTED] to the return of the signed documents. [REDACTED] reviewed the documents and stated that he thought the entire transaction took approximately two weeks. [REDACTED] pointed out that at the bottom of the stock sale agreement, the document line contained the notation "6/99" which meant the document was drafted at that time. [REDACTED] also pointed out that the sale was signed on June 22, 1999.

Details: On this date, SA [redacted] telephonically contacted this writer in response to a message left for him on Thursday 3/21/2002. [redacted] advised that his ASAC [redacted] had contacted [redacted] explaining the joint investigation between SA [redacted] and ASAC [redacted] involving the Lawndale Restoration Project and specifically [redacted]

b6
b7C

SA [redacted] advised that he had been assigned to a Gang Crimes Unit of HUD working on public housing fraud, gangs, and narcotic trafficking. In this regard he is working with the Chicago Police Department, the FBI, and the U.S. Attorney's Office. SA [redacted] stated that his investigation of public housing fraud in the City of Chicago led to the identification of East Lake Management Corporation owned and operated by [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] SA [redacted] stated that an investigation of [redacted] has revealed a myriad of companies connected to public housing and federal entitlement programs within the City of Chicago. Investigation further determined that many of these entities hire gang members paid through public funds for security purposes or for construction workers. SA [redacted] identified one such individual as [redacted] a known member of the Gangster Disciples who was running ELT Enterprises, a business that relates to East Lake Management. SA [redacted] advised that their investigative focus is primarily on gangs and drugs obtaining federal and local money in a variety of fraudulent schemes. He did say however that he will gather all information
